My class will ride the bus to LC Nature Park.
When we arrive, my teacher will help us get off the bus and walk together to the Mills Education Center.

We will go inside the Mills Education Center.
There are lots of things to see in here, but I have to stay with my class.

Inside, I will see Bob the stuffed bison. He is not alive. He cannot move or make noise, and I do not need to be scared.

My teacher or chaperone will check in at the front desk while we wait with our group.

My class may visit the Touch Table. I can touch bones, feathers, and furs from animals that live at the park. I will be gentle and share space with my classmates.

A guide from the park will greet our group.
This person will lead our field trip and help us learn about nature.

We will walk on real nature trails. I may notice the weather, it could be warm, cold, windy, or sunny. It is ok, the weather is part of the adventure.

During the hike, I will stay with my group. I will walk, not run, to stay safe and I will listen to my guide so I know what to do.

On the hike, I might see animals like bison and elk. These animals are big, but there is a fence, so I am safe. When we are near the animals, I will stay quiet so I don't scare them away.

After the hike, we will go back to the Mills Education Center. I can look around more, visit the Touch Table again, and see the antler tower (but not touch it).

Inside the Mills Education Center, I will use a quiet voice and walk to keep everyone safe. If we go outside to play, I may run and use louder voices if my teacher says it is okay.

Some classes eat lunch at the Mills Education Center. We may also have time to play outside. My teacher will tell me where to sit and what we are allowed to do.

When our visit is done, we will line up with our teacher and walk back to the bus. I will get back on safely, find my seat, and ride back to school with my class.
